

University of Victoria

Lansdowne Lecture

The University of Victoria's Public Lecture Series features the words and work of distinguished men and women, across a vast array of academic and research endeavours. As host of this lecture series, UVic continues its mission of enriching the human mind and heart.

Dr. Bethany Nowviskie

Director of Digital Research & Scholarship at the University of Virginia Library and Associate Director of the Scholarly Communication Institute

Praxis Makes Perfect: New Models for Learning in the Humanities

Thursday, 14 March, 7:00 p.m.

Social Sciences and Math Building, Room A110

Presented by the Digital Humanities Committee

What's missing from graduate training in the humanities? How can we fill the gap—and why must we fill it now? Anchored in her work with the Scholarly Communication Institute and at the University of Virginia's Praxis Program, Bethany Nowviskie will focus on concrete, extra-curricular experiments that prepare students to meet the needs and opportunities of the digital age. A longtime digital humanities scholar-practitioner, Nowviskie leads the Scholars' Lab and related programs at UVa Library and is President of the Association for Computers and the Humanities.

Travel Green: UVic is accessible by many modes of sustainable transportation including Regional transit, cycling, walking and by taxi. Should you choose to drive, pay parking is in effect for a $2.25 evening rate.

Free and open to the public | Seating is limited | Visit our online events calendar at www.uvic.ca/events

Persons with a disability requiring accommodation for this lecture should call 250-721-7235 at least 48 hours in advance.
For more information on this lecture phone 250-721-7235.